Poland, where German

the south but are being fought bitterly in the north, remained the main theater of war today—so far as the Rhineland.

Developments:
PARIS—War communiqué No. 7 said: "On the front there has been marked activity on one side and the other," presumably meaning that the French penetration towards Saarbrücken was continuing.

BERLIN—Military authorities said German troops were closing in on Warsaw, wiping out whole Polish divisions, while nearly the whole of the Polish southwestern industrial district was in German hands.

the Poles reported Germany's two-Finishing touches are being put on the last stretch of paving on Logan street, between Park and Boyle avenues. The north section, between Park and Moody avenues was finished last week and has been thrown open to traffic. It is too bad that this street could not have been improved the entire distance from Winter to Lincoln ave-

From summer "duds" to winter
"togs" isn't such a very long step.
Last week we were clad in the lightest kind of wearing apparel; this week furs and overcoats are seen on the streets. Straw hats, the last of the "die hards" are still bobbing around, but they will silently fade away within the next two weeks. Oh, yes, and the ladies will be hiding their pretty toes pretty soon.

County assessors, who have begun the triennial assessment, say that they are getting many revaluations will mean lower taxes.

It probably would, if the individual whose valuation was lowered was the only one but if all valuations are cut, it means increased millage to all and nothing is saved. Assessors are sworn to assess property uniformly, and to do otherwise is a violation of their oaths.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The federal government, acting with the speed of a wartime emergency, today invoked measures to effect swift, mass evacuation of Americans from Europe's warring countries, and to erect a naval and air "defense wall" along the Atlantic seaboard to prevent violation of the nation's declared
"impartial neutrality."

President Roosevelt requested all available American passenger liners into service on the European route to evacuate Americans from foreign capitals threatened with air raids. Seven American merchantmen will sail this week to return 3,000 Americans. Others will be returned as rapidly as they are ready.
In two other extraordinary steps, the president set up army, navy and aviation safeguards to prevent any breach of American neutrality by the belligerent powers, on the eastern seaboard from Maine to Panama.

Orders By President

By executive order, the president:
1. Put the Panama Canal—the nation's vitally strategic "lifeline" from the Atlantic to the Pacific—under full military control, centralizing all authority, civil and military, in the canal zone under Maj.
Gen. David L. Stone, its army commander. Brig. Gen. Clarence S.
Ridley, was suspended for duration of the European war.

2. Thrust American seapower 200 miles out into the Atlantic by establishing a fleet of battleships and cruisers in the Caribbean Sea.

Strange Lethargy Seen
Over Coming Primary

By this time there should be fire-claims of victory by all of the candidates. Whispered stories of "dirty work at the crossroads," of candidates who had been double-crossed, triple-crossed and sold out, candidates who claimed the nomination was being bought and over it all a general air of tenseness that we associate with elections.

But is there? There is not!
There's more excitement over when

(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7.—In an effort to keep Germany from using Mexico for signal stations or submarine bases, the ministry of communications today ordered sealing of wireless apparatus on six Ger-

This order will apply with special force to the 32,500-ton German liner Columbus, now anchored in the outer bay at Vera Cruz.
The Columbus, according to allegations here, violated Mexico's neu-

German submarines operating in the Caribbean Sea.

The Hamburg-American liner Orinoco, in the Panuco river at Tampico, was in constant radio according to code experts of the ministry of communications.

Fishermen off the coast of Campeche, on the Yucatan Peninsula, reported to authorities at Port Cam-marine rising to the surface near their anchors.

Mexico today could shed no light on German reports that the trans-Atlantic liner Bremen had put into a neutral port. Officers of the Columbus said they had expected her at Vera Cruz, but at a late hour last night she had not arrived.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—"Mark-

Franco-German frontier was announced in a new French war ministry communiqué today.

The announcement, labelled official war communiqué number 7, stated:

"On the front there has been marked activity on one side and the other."

It was assumed that the French push which on Monday enabled troops operating under the tricolor to penetrate the German lines was continuing uninterrupted.

No Details Of Fighting
Once again there were no details of the fighting nor any data enabling amateur military strategists to plot the French advance, now reliably reported to have placed French troops more than six miles
beyond the German frontier.

On the basis of what is known, however, it may be assumed that initial hostilities are taking place
beyond the German frontier.

State Is Probing
Plot To Blow Up
Highway Bridge

Believe Attempt Was Made To Destroy "Dream
Highway" Structure

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 7.—Pennsylvania motor police took over an investigation today of a possible sabotage plot to destroy one of the largest bridges on the $61,000,000
"dream" highway between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg.

A Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission official declared that the "entire case" has been turned over to the state police at Greensburg for investigation.

Twenty-one sticks of dynamite, strapped to the abutment of a bridge near Bedford Springs on the super-highway were found sometime in August, before the outbreak of the European war, it was said.

Samuel W. Marshall, chief turnpike engineer, said that only failure of a fuse prevented a major catastrophe. The case was turned over to state police because of the possible sabotage angle, inasmuch as the super-road has often been discussed as a potential "war highway" to connect western Pennsylvania state centers with the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

The bridge where the dynamite was found is one of the larger spans on the highway and is located in Snakes Spring township near the Bedford Narrows in Bedford county.
"Thus far," the commission spokesman said, "all we have is a preliminary report that the dynamite was found, capped, fused, and lighted."

Report 1,600,000 In

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 7.—A total of 98
German divisions, comprising 1,600,- of Germany's motorized divisions, are now in action in Poland, Ex-

If the Exchange dispatch is true,
it indicates that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's armies have met with greatpated in their eastward drive. First estimates placed the number of Ger-being held within the Reich for ac-

ROME, Sept. 7.—Italy, remaining neutral, and possibly planning a new peace move, hopes to gain satisfacwere not granted by the allies after the World War, diplomatic quarters heard today.

Some hint of what is going on be-

following developments:

1.—Sir Percy Loraine, British am-

Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian for-that Britain and France are plan-this country's present position.

2.—For the first time this year the Italian press has dropped its attacks on France, although bitter criticism of Britain continues.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Aroused grocery prices, President Roosevelt today awaited word from the de-

The White House was determined

SPECIAL SESSION

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 7.—As food prices soared throughout the state in the first general effect of the European war on Pennsylvania farm products, state agricultural experts today maintained a close watch on the situation to see that it did not "get out of hand."

Department of agriculture officurrent prices for wheat and other products were far below the average

There has been talk of an im-

Reconnaissance Flights By Both German And Allied Planes

DETAILS OF FRENCH DRIVE ARE SECRET

(International News Service)
BASLE, Switzerland, Sept. 7.—French and German fortifications along the southern extremities of the Maginot and Siegfried lines in the vicinity of Basle remained silent today as hostilities continued in the Saar valley far to the north.

French bombardment of the Siegfried line in the Saar and the Palatine had no answering echo in the south.

The situation remains the same as this correspondent described it on Monday except for increased reconnaissance flights by both German and allied planes. There have been no aerial combats, however.

The French frontier cities of Strasbourg and Mulhouse have been evacuated entirely.

Few details of the French offensive were known in Basle, but this correspondent's unimpeachable sources have confirmed that the allied troops have achieved important advances into Reich territory.

That Pierre Laval, former French premier, negotiator of the Franco-Italian accord which the Ethiopian war shattered, and regarded as a friend of Italy, is in Rome was denied at the French embassy. But an embassy spokesman said "it is not entirely excluded that he might come; anything can happen."

Evidence piled up meanwhile that Italy plans to maintain her neutrality.

Italian transatlantic shipping schedules are being increased, rather than diminished. The Rex is sailing for New York with 2,000 passengers Saturday, and the Conti Di Savoia is due Sept. 13, to be followed by several other departures.

These ships are leaving without naval escorts.

Moreover, no new military precautions are being taken by Italy.

The Polish embassy today denied foreign reports that Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, head of the Polish armed forces, had resigned.

MASS EVACUATION OF AMERICANS IN EUROPE PLANNED

Hunt For Spies

The president also established numerous internal safeguards, chief of which was the launching of a national hunt for spies and saboteurs. He invested in the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the justice department, full jurisdiction and authority in enforcing neutrality, anti-sabotage and anti-sabotage measures. He requested the cooperation of all police officers, sheriffs and other reinforcement of the nation of "espionage, counter-espionage, sabotage, subversive activities and violations of the neutrality laws."

Attorney General Frank Murphy said all law enforcement agencies would be coordinated, and declared: "Foreign agents undertaking espionage will not find this country a happy hunting ground. We are prepared. There will be no repetition of the confusion, laxity and indifference of the World War years."

To Police Shipping

Under the president's instructions, the treasury department appointed Basil Harris, vice president of the United States lines, commissioner of customs with orders to police all shipping against violations of the neutrality act. To the newly formed war resources board, the president appointed Comdr. John Hancock, U. S. N., retired, who was in charge of all naval supply procurement during the World War.

The state department meanwhile, barred further issuance of visas under foreign immigration quotas. Officials explained the government intends to give its full attention to the safe return of Americans from the war zones and that the immigration of foreigners must wait.

not on the soil of France as in the last great war, but on German territory between the Rhine and Moselle rivers, with strategic points in rich Saar valley the apparent first objectives of the allied forces.

British Planes On Scene

Last night's communiqué told of German resistance by automatic weapons and field fortifications and briefly mentioned the activity of war planes.

British air squadrons are already operating in France side by side with the French, it was established today.

M. Giraudoux, French minister of information, stated: "You have seen in the sky of Paris fine squadrons of British planes. Many of these are now in the provinces of France, on watch with our own."

The reference to "marked activity" in today's announcement conveyed to some observers an intensification not only of the French drive but of the German resistance.

PA NEW OBSERVES

their weight through invitations to corn roasts, will have to look for some other form of expansion.

Along with the girls, we'll miss our corn, but it won't be long until the farmers thresh their pumpkins and then we'll lay our ears back to some of that good old fashioned pumpkin pie.

"What is so rare as a day in June?" runs the old saw, and Pa Newc hastens to answer, "a day in September." It is now that Old Sol stops trying to reduce us to greasespots, and gives us that mild and stimulating weather that renews our energy. Most everybody feels better in September, unless they have something seriously the matter with them. The languid humidity of August is gone; the harvest is past, fruits are ripening and pretty soon old Jack Frost will touch the countryside, and it will become a panorama of beauty and splendor. September, it's a great month.

Pretty soon the dogs will be talking about their operations just like humans, or maybe they will let their owners do the talking.

The thought is suggested by a press dispatch which tells us of an operation on a Boston terrier named "Tiny" that had a tumor removed. Now comes Mrs. Jack Linwood, of New Brighton, with a story that her Boston terrier, "Lady Dainty" by name had a similar operation. Coming closer to home Pa Newc was introduced to a dog owned by A. C. Miller of Mahoning township, last week, which had one of its front legs amputated, after it had been accidentally shot.

Lawrence county is in good financial shape to sponsor some worthwhile project that will give employment to our citizens. Some have already been sponsored, and have either been completed, or are in operation. It is the proper time now to look ahead for the winter.

What kind of a project would give work during the months just ahead? It should be no "boondoggling" proposition, but something that will prove a real benefit to the city and county. Such projects are scarce, and it will require some gray matter to think them out.

In seven districts of Lawrence county electors will express at the polls next week their opinions on the "wet" or "dry" issue. There does not appear to have been any concerted campaign on either side, although considerable quiet work has been going on. The matter is being left largely to the conscience of the individual voter. It is one that ought to be considered carefully and thoughtfully. The decision reached in each district stands for the next five years.

Smoke streams were seen arising from a great many house chimneys on Wednesday, as the first chilly weather of the season forced the housekeeper to make a little furnace fire "to take the chill off the house."

HOUSEWIVES LEAGUE SENDS PROTEST

the jobbers and producers. The increases they placed upon stocks of foodstuffs which are being exhausted will be eaten up by increases in replacement costs.

"Wheat, sugar, beans, foodstuffs of all kinds are just as much war materials as are guns and armament. Under our neutrality policy this nation will not sell armament to warring nations, but every piece of armament must be manned and those men require food. While we regret the war, nevertheless, we deny an attempt to profit at the expense of the householders of the United States."

The telegram to the president Wednesday afternoon follows: President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Washington, D. C.

With the war in Europe hardly a week old prices on foodstuffs have begun to skyrocket. In our community sugar has nearly doubled in some cases, wheat products show an increase and the indications point to further increases.

This despite the fact that this year's wheat crop is unparalleled in size; there is a huge surplus from last year, and Puerto Rico has a heavy surplus of sugar. The fault lies not with our retailers or wholesalers, but with the jobbers and producers.

Such increases will disrupt family budgets, work hardships upon poor people and reduce the buying power of relief recipients. We realize a critical situation prevails, but we also realize that the war profiteer has already made his appearance. Wheat, sugar and staples are munitions of war no less than guns and armament. If munitions can be controlled, why not food prices. We appeal to you as president to set in motion forces that will forcibly restrain the profiteer from making swollen profits at the expense of the average citizen.

MUST WATCH FOR PROPAGANDA

FROM a number of important sources, warnings have been issued against the menace of propaganda. It appears that several of the European nations have geared their "public relations" machinery to high gear in a prospective attempt to influence American opinion. The American people will do well to be on the alert for any and all evidences of prejudicial comment.

Propaganda played a big part between 1914 and 1917 when this country was trying to maintain a neutrality policy. Indeed, there are critics who claim it was a leading factor in getting America into the struggle.

Newspaper editors can be counted upon to watch carefully for evidences of sinister manipulation. But it also behooves the general public to put plenty of salt on European pronouncements. Otherwise mass opinion may be led into dangerous channels.

THE AMERICAN WILDERNESS

For those who blandly think that the continent representing the United States has been conquered by man and that outside of a few bears and wolves there is hardly any big game, let them take heed of an inventory made by the Bureau of Biological Survey.

There are nearly 6,000,000 big game animals in the United States, the survey revealed, an increase of a million over the previous year. The agents in their census ran into deer, elk, moose, antelope, bighorn sheep, mountain goat, peccary (which is a kind of a wild pig), caribou, bear, buffalo, and the "exotic European wild boar." Excepting buffalos, the count did not include animals in captivity.

It is interesting to note that the exotic European wild boar is found in far-flung places, Texas, Tennessee, California, North Carolina, Mississippi and New Hampshire, which, curiously enough, possesses 100 of these creatures. Black bears, naturally, confined themselves to such rugged states as Washington and California, and the grizzly was found in Montana and Wyoming. Delaware is the only state in the union which does not have any big game.

Out of these 6,000,000 big-game, there were only sixteen woodland caribou, of which Minnesota has twelve and Washington four. In this respect the guns of the demon hunter have functioned very well.

CHILD SECURITY HERE—BUT ABROAD!

The Social Security Board announces that about a million children will shortly be added to those already obtaining benefits under the system. Of these, 200,000 are included in the extension of the old-age pension plan to surviving dependents. They and their mothers will draw monthly allowances.

The remainder will be covered by the program of federal aid to dependent children which is unconnected with the pensions for the aged and requires contributions by the states. The federal government will now increase its share from one-third to one-half. At present forty states are helping 718,000 children.

To borrow the caption of Mr. Hutton's recent cartoon, at once so powerful and pathetically moving in its appeal to all human sympathy, this is indeed "the children's hour" in peaceful America. The little hostages to fortune were never more the object of kindly and thoughtful solicitude, as expressed in carefully laid plans for their present and future welfare.

Here another million American children will not go ill-nourished or lacking adequate medical care, while across the sea, in one land at least, millions of youngsters must subsist on short rations, counting every mouthful as the family seeks to make the scanty official allowance go as far as possible against the day when starvation may threaten all.

Security for a million more American children! A noble enterprise. But even that security may vanish in thin air unless America insures that the world's greatest calamity is kept far away from its shores.

THE ULTIMATE FATE OF DICTATORSHIPS

While the world is wondering if the non-aggression treaty between Russia and Germany means a military consolidation of their vast forces, together with what would be the inevitable absorption of small buffer nations lying in between, there is at least room for conjecture as to what would happen to the entire structure in event of the death of either dictator.

In all the world's experience, death or military disaster provide almost the only cure known for dictatorships, except in perhaps a very few cases where abdication has followed some other debacle.

If the two nations unite their military and economic resources and consolidate through absorption of the buffer states, they will, if death does not intervene, create an empire (call it what else you will) greater than the world has yet known.

If death should remove one of the two dictators, dissolution of such an empire is bound to follow, unless the remaining dictator is able to seize power over the other's dominions. Even in that case, the surviving dictator will eventually die, and then such a great empire, held together by the will and personality of only one man, can hardly fail to fall and be shattered by the very weight of its own magnitude.

Chaos probably would result, but the pieces would organize, some as individual national units, others by groups, and would form new nations.

Disillusioned by the failure of dictatorships, some would devise new governmental theories and systems. Some would organize monarchies, and some perhaps would turn to republican forms of government.

But certainly the great dictatorships would be at an end, and the world would have learned certain lessons in government. But in the attempt to right a topsy-turvy world, the new nations would without doubt find themselves involved in fresh political, ethical, and moral "isms," some of which might be good and some of which would undoubtedly be bad.

The fact remains that almost the only cure for dictatorships is death, and the second fact is as certain, that the passing of dictatorship must mean complete reorganization of their governmental organizations, unless, of course, some new dictator can take hold quickly enough and with sufficient strength to hold on. And the greater the organization the less chance there is of such an outcome.

And dictators never live forever.

In every profession you will find two groups—those who handle the big jobs, and those who bitterly and scornfully criticize their way of doing it.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAINING BABY IN MENTAL HEALTH

According to the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, there are now a million children in our public schools who will have a mental breakdown at some time during their life.

However, mental hygienists maintain that most of these children could be saved from this catastrophe if their parents and teachers were to provide a more calm, serene and poised home and school life; if adults learned to manage themselves better and to cultivate in themselves better mental health; if moreover, parents and teachers would acquire enough wisdom and skill in guiding growing children.

Mental Health Defined
That person has good mental health who manages himself well, gets along agreeably with other people and seldom worries. He makes his feelings his friends, and not his enemies. He builds in himself those habits he knows to be most useful to him as an individual and as a member of society.

He works hard when he works, and plays hard when he plays. Others like to work with him and play with him. When he has a job, he does it wholeheartedly, and never seeks excuses to postpone it or to run away from it. He has the courage to face tasks he knows he ought to face. He is not a quitter or a coward.

He doesn't try to fool himself or others, nor does he pity himself. He is ever ready to accept the consequences of his own shortcomings, and does not blame others for his failures.

Not a Question of Being Smart
Mental health is not a measure of how smart a person is. Some very brilliant persons become mentally sick, and some rather stupid persons enjoy excellent mental health. But it is a measure of how well a person uses his mind and emotions to get along with himself and others. A better word for mental health might be emotional health.

While this column has not been labeled "mental health," one of its major aims is just that, as you can see. For building good mental health, we must begin with the baby, if not with his grandparents.

LITTLE THINGS.

New Castle people are very anxious to promote the business prosperity of the city and they must remember that very little things often destroy a great opportunity.

For instance: The town of Sidney, New York, in the early 60's was very anxious to have which he was very fond. And just before the clinching of the deal, a fast train struck and killed the favorite pet of the key man in the situation. Newton never got over the loss of the dog; and as a result, he swore that no railroad shops should ever be built in Sidney. And so the shops were located in Oneonta, where they are in operation today.

WHY GUIDES DON'T LIKE FISHERMEN

"Twas south by west a rod or more, Just off that pine tree on the shore, The barn was just abaft the bow And not as close as we are now. I'd say the spot beyond a doubt, Is just a half-mile farther out."

"I'm sure you're wrong, as I recall This sure 'nother where we were at all. It's just as plain as plain can be, We're not in line with barn or tree. If but this southwest wind would shift, Across the very spot we'd drift."

"Where is that grove of silver birch Between the ice-house and the church?"
A third remarked, "Remember, I Noted the steeple in the sky And told you to observe it when We came to fish for bass again."

But while they looked for barn and tree
The patient guide remarked to me:
"It takes a city man to search The shore for pine and grove and church."

We natives guess about the spot, Sometimes we catch and sometimes not."

A GOOD CITIZEN
A high school pupil in a western town wrote the following letter to the local newspaper:

"A truck laden with boxes was being driven along the street when one box slipped off, scattering fragments of glass. Instead of passing on and leaving the glass for some one else to sweep aside, the driver obtained a broom from a neighboring drug store and swept all the pieces into the gutter. I think this man showed good citizenship."

There is another suggestion contained in the letter. If high school pupils generally were asked to report daily or weekly all the outstanding acts of good citizenship they observed going to and from school, there might be a notable increase in the number of such deeds.

What's What At A Glance

Hitler Is Unpopular Personality
Americans Think More Of Goering
Goebbels Disliked More Than Hitler

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Adolf Hitler isn't at all popular among Americans who have come in contact with him. In the main these include ambassadorial and consular officials. Now and then one or another of these functionaries has visited the United States on leave during the period of Der Fuehrer's incumbency and I've talked with several of them quite recently. One was a relative of mine, who expressed himself to me very freely. Naturally these chaps all have had a vehement "passion for anonymity." If any one of them were quoted by name, Germany would be too bilious for him to go back to, while Adolf remains on the job.

But General Field Marshal Hermann Goering, just appointed head of the ministerial council in defense of the Reich, and generally regarded as No. 2 Nazi, is pretty well liked—that is to say, personally, not necessarily politically.

However, Herr Goebbels, Hitler's propaganda minister, usually rated as No. 3 Nazi—until Hitler named Radolf Hess as next in line to Goering—seems to have even fewer well-posted American friends than Adolf himself. When I asked how it happens that some anti-Nazi German (a Jew, for instance) hasn't already tried to bump the present Fuehrer off, the answer invariably has been that everybody has been afraid Goebbels, instead of Goering, might succeed him. And it's the consensus that Goebbels would be worse than Hitler.

Hitler A Genius

That Hitler's a downright genius is unexceptionally agreed. The complaint is that, though a genius, he's abnormal, if not actually insane. He's assessed as homicidal in his peculiarities, too. Apparently he isn't companionable, either. He doesn't drink beer, as an orthodox German should. He has no smoking signs stuck up all over his premises. He's a vegetarian.

They say he's abusive in conversation, he raves and rants, he's personally insulting to his visitors. In short, the verdict is that, as an individual, he's a darned sight worse than the ex-kaiser ever was. The Kaiser had some of the superficialities of polite society. Der Fuehrer is accused of being an unqualified barbarian—not only intrinsically, but in his manners.

Some of the folk I've talked with who have met both of the two, have compared Hitler with Mussolini. They've concluded that Benito, while a dictator, is a rational, human type of one—a bird who can be talked with reasonably. Not so Adolf, according to these authorities.

Such critics don't believe that Adolf and Benito basically have much in common. They calculate that Benito is pretty tired of Adolf now—that he considers the latter dangerously cuckoo.

Goering A Semi-Good Guy
Marshal Goering is classified as intrinsically a nice German—like our own old-time German-Americans.

He's represented as a "good fellow."

He slushes beer, eats "weanies"—and you like him.

They have silver bands and hand-bells in those days, and nobody found any fault with 'em—in fact, sympathized with 'em.

In those times this country was full of German immigrants who were here because they were in exile to get away from the Fatherland's military conscription. In that era, a fat chance Germany would have had to develop a Nazi-bund in America! Militarism then was what our Germans were dying to get away from.

Marshal Goering, then is a German we think we more or less understand.

Not so, as I understand it, Herr Hitler.

And Herr Goebbels, from all accounts, is as crazy as Herr Hitler, without being a genius also.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT
Copyright, 1939,
by The Baltimore Sun

Nonpartisanship?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.

EVERY decent American will want to respond to the "simple plea" of the President made Sunday night to put partisanship aside, and cooperate in effecting a national unity that hind American foreign policy will lend power to the voice of this country, insure respect for its neutrality and strengthen it for any emergency.

THAT does not mean that our normal political processes are to be abandoned, that opposition to Mr. Roosevelt's domestic policies is to become diluted or that there need be any diminution in the force of a majority determination to rid the country of New Dealism next year. It merely means that in dealing with the world crisis, unless he himself gives sound reason for patriotic opposition, the President's hands should be upheld.

AS A matter of fact neither anti-New Deal Democrats nor Republicans have asked for the outbreak of war nor for the Roosevelt appeal, to support him in his foreign policies. For many weeks on the neutrality issue and on other phases of foreign policy, some of his strongest advocates have been those most distrustful of the direction in which he had been leading the country. That on foreign affairs these will continue to support him without saying: What the President's country wants is to keep this country out of the actual conflict, but to help France and England to win in every way we can "short of war." Stripped of the restrained language in which it is necessary to clothe official utterances on such matters that is the real meaning of the Roosevelt acts and the Roosevelt words as they apply to the European situation. With that idea, unquestionably the country as a whole is in accord.

IT is a fact too, that Mr. Roosevelt has had help from opponents in his national defense program. For that program he was not only entitled to support, but to credit. Last time war came without warning, it caught the nation terribly unprepared. This time it is true, the warnings were such as to leave no excuse for failure to prepare. Nevertheless, the preparations have been intelligently and thoroughly made. As a result the country has withstood—and will withstand—the shock without the severe dislocations that followed the 1914 war declarations.

IT seems certain too, that if and when the President calls the special session, neutrality revision blocked last session will go through and Roosevelt words as they apply to the domestic issue will not for any partisan or personal reason handicap his efforts to keep the country neutral and further prepare for war. However, this sort of support would certainly be easier if Mr. Roosevelt could be induced to check the offensive partisanship and small selfishness of the group of friends and advisers who infest the "White House" and are known as the "palace politicians."

THAT some of these see in the present terrible situation an opportunity to promote their own political schemes for perpetuating the regime of which they are a part has been made plain in a number of ways. Apparently, there are men close to the President who think and interpret this war in terms of New Deal politics. Apparently, they are concerned about it only because of the effect in keeping Mr. Roosevelt—which means themselves—in power and in keeping the New Deal faction in control.

FOR example it is unfortunate that the very day before Mr. Roosevelt made his Sunday night appeal this group should have launched an attack upon Mr. John Hancock, the most recently selected member of the new War Resources Board.

Largely because he opposed some of the unreasonable regulations of the SEC in the time of the Douglas chairmanship, he is now referred to as a "stencil in the nostrils" of the true New Dealers in addition to the "true New Dealers" express dissatisfaction with the general personnel of the board, not on the sound ground that there are on it no men of experience but on the unsound ground that there are on it no "true New Dealers."

THE opinion is publicly expressed by those who have the confidence of this group that unless the Hancock appointment is offset by others who represent real New Dealism another feud between the radicals and conservatives in the Administration will ensue and the preparation program be badly handicapped. As though this were not enough on the very morning before the President's address urging abandonment of partisanship on the most cherished of the White House journalists, a true reflector of "inner circle" views burst forth with a lengthy piece on the effect of the war on the third term.

IT is not charged that Mr. Roosevelt knew or inspired these things but it does seem that he might find time to know what his friends

Shenango Pottery Display Attracts Wide Attention

Products Of New Castle Plant On Exhibition In Butz Store Window

A colorful display of pottery manufactured at the Shenango Pottery company's plant here has been a downtown magnet to citizens all week and led one salesman who has been calling here for years to confess "I never knew you had a pottery here."

The large show window of Butz Brothers at 9 North Mercer street is given over to Shenango products. Photographs of several Shenango artists and an aerial photo of the plant are included.

One of a series of windows dedicated to New Castle plants, railroads and other businesses, this week's exhibit surprised the salesman who for 14 years has been visiting business houses here. Even a resident of prominence admitted, too, that "I never knew Jim Smith's plant made anything like that."

Costly artistic plates turned out for some of the country's largest organizations and for homes can be seen, and included, too, is a plate made especially for United States Senator James J. Davis. The senator's photo has been worked into the design.

Altogether, 40 service plates are shown.

Paid Firemen Get Police Powers

Members of the city paid fire department were all sworn into office by Mayor Charles E. McGrath. This clothed them with police powers in case of fire. Under federal law no one, who has not subscribed to the oath, would be permitted to break a lock on a federal building were fire discovered. Councilman J. M. Rice, director public safety explained.

GERMAN DRIVE UPON WARSAW IS CONTINUED

prompted drive southward has been halted. Heavy fighting also was reported before Lodz, Poland's second city.

ROME—Neutral Italy, possibly planning a new peace move, hoped to hold the allies to their unfulfilled World War territorial promises.

Closing In On Warsaw
Berlin, Sept. 7.—Rapidly closing in on Warsaw in a series of advances that have wiped out "the flower of the Polish army," the German military high command today announced the capture of Kielce and swift approach to Tomaszow and Lodz.

"The Poles continue to retreat on all fronts," an official communique declared.

"Effectively supported by the air force, German troops remain on the heels of the retreating Poles, pursuing them hotly and engaging the enemy in battle.

"On the southern front, the Germans crossed the Dunajec river north of San Nandez (Nowy Sacz)."

"After the capture of Kielce, the Germans are pressing eastward, approaching Tomaszow and Lodz.

Guns Taken
"On the northern front Reich troops cleared the Tuchel forest northwest of Graudenz of defeated Polish divisions remaining there."

"Considerable booty and an additional ninety guns were taken."

"Germans crossed the Thorn-Strassburg road east of the Vistula and established a bridgehead on the opposite bank of the Drenzew River."

"East Prussian forces reached the Naren River on both sides of Pultus and near Rozan."

"The air force, with powerful diving attacks, annihilated numerous retreating units."

"Aerial attacks on railway stations, bridges and tracks continued. Bombers severely damaged the Vistula bridge south of Warsaw. The west station of Warsaw is afire."

Poland Claims Advance Halted
Warsaw, Sept. 7.—Poland, fighting its greatest battle of the week-end war along a "Pilsudski" line 30 miles north of the capital, today reported that the two-pronged German drive up the Vistula and south from east Prussia so far has been stopped dead.

By implication, however, it was admitted that German forces in the southwest were progressing against Lodz, the country's largest city, with a population of 605,000, and with great spinning and other industries.

The latest war communique announced: "German airplanes continued to bomb our troops and lines of communication, and they also bombed Warsaw several times."

"Our air force bombed armored columns of the enemy, and planes and anti-aircraft guns shot down 15 planes Wednesday and 20 Tuesday. Polish losses were six planes."

"Heavy fighting is in progress in the Lodz district and west of Tarnow (which is east of Cracow)."

"No progress has been made by the enemy on the lines at Thorn (where Germans are striking up the Vistula) and Plousk (center of the German attack from east Prussia)."

Meager messages from the front indicated that a terrific battle raged north of Warsaw. The town of Pultusk, on the Polish east flank, was lost once to the Germans, then regained, it was stated.

HOSPITAL TRAINS REACH PARIS FROM WESTERN FRONT

shoulder to shoulder with the forces of Britain, were locked in bloody combat with the soldiers of Nazi Germany between the Maginot and Siegfried lines.

The wounded came home to Paris in their sorry trainloads as full cooperation between the French and British high commands was effected and a new announcement from the War Office—communique number 7—told of "marked activities" during the night on the western front.

Tell of Heavy Fighting
(Editor's Note: Dispatches from Amsterdam, Brussels and Luxembourg told of heavy fighting on the Franco-German border, with frequent bursts of artillery fire and aerial bombings in which British airplanes played an active role.)

While the high command continued to be brief in the extreme regarding military activities in the Moselle valley where the French army penetrated into Germany at a dozen points on Monday and have since continued the advance despite stern resistance, M. Giraudoux, the French minister of information, gave a hint as to the extent of Franco-British collaboration.

"It is impossible for the moment to give full information about British troops in France," he said. "It would naturally be dangerous to indicate to the enemy the number of British troops disembarking, but you must know that British soldiers are going to the Rhine to take their place alongside of ours."

"The support that Britain is able to give now is infinitely greater than in 1914."

STILL IN ENGLAND

The last card received from Llewellyn Preston of this city, father of Assemblyman Carmi Preston, was postmarked London, England, Mr. Preston, who went to England and Wales some time ago with David Lewis, was to have sailed home on the S. S. Laconia from Liverpool, but the voyage has been cancelled.

ANGLO-FRENCH ASSISTANCE IS GIVEN POLAND

ed the need for a short war and a quick decision. In pursuance of this idea, the German plan appears to be to concentrate the first major effort against Poland, and as the house is aware, that country was invaded over a week ago without any formal declaration of war.

Morale Strong

"In spite of human and material losses which have already been suffered, the morale and courage of the Polish people remain unaffected."

"In the east the Poles are fighting hard against a strong and ruthless enemy who are relying upon the weight of numbers and materials to crush all opposition."

"The Polish soldier has ever shown himself a courageous and determined fighter and today is worthily maintaining this tradition against overwhelming superiority in the air."

"Outnumbered and outgunned, he is contesting every yard of the German advance."

Referring again to the situation on Germany's western frontier, Chamberlain said:

"Certain information has been published regarding what has taken place in eastern France, but for obvious reasons no details can be disclosed."

"The outbreak of war has found the same spirit of determination among the French people as is evident here."

"The understanding between the two countries is complete and arrangements which have now been put into force for cooperation of all activities connected with prosecution of the war are working smoothly and well."

"The defensive military dispositions of the army in this country, which cover a wide field, were made in good time," Chamberlain continued.

Efficient Defense

"Manning of the anti-aircraft and coast defenses was efficiently carried out. The guarding of vulnerable points has been taken over by national defense companies, supplemented by territorials."

(Editor's Note: Chamberlain's mention of anti-aircraft defenses recalled the first real attempt by German planes to reach London yesterday, when anti-aircraft guns on the east coast beat back the raiders before British fighters which went aloft could come to grips with them. Contrary to erroneous reports, there was no aerial "dog-fight." One German plane was brought down by anti-aircraft fire and a British plane came down in flames as well—apparent victim of a misplaced shot by a British anti-aircraft gun.)

Morale Is High

"Mobilization of the remainder of the British army has been carried out with greatest smoothness and the morale of all ranks is high."

"On the naval side, the most important feature to the present has been development of German U-boat attacks on our shipping. Sinking of the Athenia, with its scenes of death and terror virtually opened the war, and no denials or inventions on the part of Germany will convince the public of German innocence of this crime which has profoundly shocked and horrified the world."

"Apart from the case of the Athenia, there have been attacks upon other British merchant ships by German U-boats and three or four ships have been sunk."

"The admiralty has taken immediate counter-measures. British destroyers and other anti-submarine vessels are rapidly becoming available."

officials said that the enormous food surplus still exists in this country.

Probe Situation

The president was being urged to move swiftly and make definite examples of those who apparently already have undertaken to enrich themselves because of the European conflict. Attorney General Frank Murphy, Solicitor-General Robert H. Jackson and other legal experts have been probing into the president's powers for several days.

Within his own official family, the president received reports that sugar prices in Washington had risen from 45 cents to 55 cents per 10 pounds since Saturday. Similarly, flour had advanced from 39 cents to 43 cents. All meat prices were up.

The departments of justice and agriculture have received complaints from Detroit and other cities that speculators were descending on the food market.

Warnings By President

Twice this week the president has warned against profiteering. In his radio address to the nation Sunday night he declared no one had the "moral right" to indulge in such a practice. Through his secretary, Stephen T. Early, he let it be known that "undoubtedly there will be action if profiteering creeps up."

Officials admitted that many housewives were contributing something to the situation by stocking up staples against any price increase, but they failed to see any reason for such overnight price mark-ups.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, stabbing pains in the back and neck are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

are doing. It would seem that he would tolerate that sort of thing even less from his friends than from his enemies. It further would seem that there is slight excuse not to know it, if that kind of stuff had appeared in the newspapers from his opponents he would have known it very quickly and been publicly indignant about it. One would think that Mr. Roosevelt would have used his influence to shut the partisan mouths of his own little "inner circle" before he made his plea to those outside.

THE NEWS, BY MAIL, 1 YEAR, $5.

NO TROUBLE FROM BACKACHE SINCE PA. LADY TOOK VENDOL

Says it's first time in nearly a year she goes through day without awful pains. Advises sufferers to try Vendol.

Take the advice of men and women living all over this part of Penna. and get a treatment of Vendol and soon enjoy the wonderful relief this celebrated Root, Herb, and Alkaline medicine will give.

Mrs. George Bush, residing on Route 3, Beaver Falls, Pa., says, "I had been constipated a long time and my kidneys needed a diuretic medicine, which filled me with aches and pains in my back, legs, and arms. I lost my appetite, yet the scantiest meal made me suffer later from acid indigestion, nausea, sour stomach, and palpitation. My nerves were quivery so I never seemed to get a decent night's sleep."

"Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets gave the finest relief I had known from constipation, acted as a diuretic to my kidneys, sharpened my appetite, and then the aches, pains, shaky nerves, sour, gassy stomach, and bilious feelings just passed away, and I'm now feeling so wonderful that I want to advise everyone needing a medicine like this to start taking Vendol at once."

Most all druggists sell Vendol, so it is easy to get, and costs but a few cents a day, and will do you worlds of good. So, come to Eckerd's of New Castle, 118 E. Washington St., at once and begin taking this amazing Root, Herb, and Alkaline medicine today.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Whatever became of the Anti-

Noise Crusade?

The crusade apparently got so quiet it disappeared.

But the noise is going on just the same.

There are many sounds that simply have to be made.

Factory whistles, coal going down the chute and building noises.

There are some unnecessary and irritating noises.

Useless honking of automobile horns is one of them.

Amplifiers mounted on trucks are exasperatingly noisy.

We live in a busy and a noisy world.

Noise can be very fatiguing and can affect the health.

Sound-proofing offices adds to workers' efficiency.

Everyone can help to reduce enervating noises.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest.

It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes three good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of liquid bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Refuse anything

RUMOR SIEGFRIED LINE IS PIERCED

By JULES JESSERLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 7.—Intensely heavy fighting, featured by terrific cannonades from French and German artillery, proceeded before the Maginot and Siegfried lines on the Franco-German border today.

Direct telephone contact with Luxembourg, nearest neutral city to the fighting, disclosed a widespread rumor there that part of the Siegfried line had already been blown up under the concerted Anglo-French artillery, infantry and air force advance.

There was no official confirmation, however.

The Saar basin has been partially evacuated, this correspondent learned, as it lies directly in the path of the allied advance.

Casualties apparently have been heavy.

Arrival of numerous casualties in Paris from the western front necessitated opening of the American hospital at Neuilly, just outside of the French capital, for the accommodation of wounded troops.

British aircraft again flew over the west wall, without encountering enemy fire.

French troops are slowly advancing along a 100-mile front. Their initial break-through across the frontier on Monday was aided by the British and French air force.

The advancing allied troops are meeting with considerable resistance from what military authorities describe as "automatic arms"—presumably meaning artillery and machine-guns.

County Farmers Received $40,883

Government Reports On Soil Conservation Payments
For 1937

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 7.—Lawrence county farmers received Federal payments totaling $40,883 for participating in the 1937 soil conservation program, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration reported today.

Such payments in Pennsylvania as a whole aggregated $3,301,333. In addition to these direct payments to farmers, the AAA spent $136,034 in administrative expenses in the state. This brought the cost of the 1937 program to $3,437,368 in Pennsylvania.

York county, center of tobacco growing, led the state with a total of $113,441 in payments to farmers. Such payments amounted to $70,894 in Butler county, $24,058 in Beaver county, $99,556 in Mercer county and $41,521 in Allegheny county.

Payments go to farmers who co-operate with the AAA in limiting crop production and restoring the fertility of the soil.

John Galbreath Still In Trieste, Letter Indicates

Ship Which Was To Carry Student Home From Italy, Never Left Port

Because of the rigid control over press and radio in Europe, American tourists had no idea of the true state of affairs until a short time before actual hostilities had started. John Galbreath, Westminster College junior, who had been traveling abroad during the summer, writes to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, of New Wilmington.

In the letter, dated August 25, young Galbreath said that he had arrived at Trieste, Italy, the previous day after traveling by train from Rome and had boarded the Italian liner S. S. Saturnia with the intention of going to Greece and then returning to America.

All passages were allowed to board the ship, but it never sailed. Passengers, after some time, were informed that the ship would not be leaving port. To their questions the engineers were "disabled."

This was the first indication to American tourists in Italy that a state of war existed. Mr. Galbreath had been in Germany a short time before and the same rigid censorship of the news kept the tourists and German people in the dark as to international happenings.

Originally scheduled to be home September 8, the Westminster youth will now not likely be home until an American ship sails from Trieste.

His companion in Europe has been Deane Weinberg of Peoria, Ill., a junior in Wooster College. They started their journey on June 20, attended the International Youth Conference in Amsterdam for two weeks, then went on to Germany, Switzerland and other parts.

Dr. Daffoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

CARE OF A BABY IN ITS FIRST YEAR—NO. 4.

The early weeks of nursing the baby are apt to be rather trying. For one thing, there is quite often an excessive supply of milk during the first few days. This will right itself, of course, but very often I find it advisable to suggest some means to relieve the tension on the breasts. In many cases it is wise to use a breast pump; sometimes a massage with warm oil will give the necessary relief.

In these early weeks especially the breasts are liable to injury. In particular, the nipples are apt to become cracked and occasionally so sore that it is necessary to have the baby taken off the breast for a few feedings. Sometimes a nipple shield will have to be used. This is one of the times when you need your doctor's advice if you are to come through without suffering too much.

Another factor is that after the nurse has gone the mother is left to herself. These are days of extreme weariness, because of broken sleep and worry about whether the baby is getting the right care or not. At this time a mother hasn't regained full strength, and this combination of circumstances often causes the supply of milk to diminish.

When a mother finds that she can't produce enough milk for the baby, of course she becomes panicky, worries more and more, and so just adds to the cause of her troubles. But this diminishing of the milk supply is merely a sign that the mother is overtaxing her strength. She is being too active, doing too much. She really hasn't enough strength to do her housework and produce milk for her baby as well.

When this happens, many a mother jumps to the conclusion that she can't give her child enough food, that he is slowly starving to death; so she quits the breast feedings altogether. This is a very serious mistake, which I always advise against if I have the opportunity. Usually if you put it up to the mother that it is a choice between her household duties and her child's feedings, she will make the right choice. Then if she rests more and keeps right on with the breast feedings, she will find that the milk supply will increase.

At times, I speak to the husband about these things, and when I do this I am nearly always able to have the mother's burden of other duties made lighter, so that she can go on nursing her child. I do this because I am completely convinced that a child often is weaned prematurely when it isn't necessary. I suppose it may seem strange for me to advocate so strongly that mothers nurse their children, when the Quintuplets did so well although the mother was unable to nurse them. We did the next best thing; we had mother's milk sent in from Toronto every day for months and months. The first day or so we got a meagre supply of this precious fluid from other mothers in the district. Then Dr. Herman Bundesen in far-off Chicago sent us some from there. Then the Hospital volunteered to keep us supplied. So all the Quints from the start had the food that nature intended they should have.

King Inspects New 1940 Buick Models

Head Of Lawrence Auto Sales
Co. And Other Representatives Back From Flint, Mich.

E. J. King, General Manager of Lawrence Auto Sales Co., of this City, returned after attending the largest field sales organization conference ever held by the Buick Motor Division of General Motors in preparation for what company officials believe will be the biggest year in Buick history.

While at Flint, Mr. King inspected the new Buick models for 1940, and reported them outstanding in style treatment and mechanical advances and the "hottest" line of new cars he has pre-viewed in his twenty years in the automobile business.

Other members of his organization who accompanied him to Flint included:

C. A. Brookover, H. W. Sontum, L. R. King, T. G. Lamore, E. C. "Butch" Miller, Elmer Swartzlander.

"While details of the new cars are to be withheld until the public announcement date," said Mr. King, "it is no violation of confidence to say that two new Buick lines will be added for next year. We will thus have a Buick car to fit every need and every purse just above the lowest price field."

"While at Flint our Buick President, Harlow H. Curtis, told me that he has already made commitments totaling $400,000 for early production of new models and that between now and the close of the year more than 100,000 new cars are scheduled for production. This is by a wide margin the heaviest fall schedule in the history of the company, and is an indication of the demand anticipated when the new models are publicly shown."

"We also learned at Flint that advanced orders placed for new 1940 Buick cars 'eight months' already total $15,000,000. Some of these orders were turned in by us and those people will be the first to get delivery of the new Buicks here in New Castle."

"The Buick projection for the next twelve months calls for an output in excess of 240,000 cars, as compared with 208,000 in the highly successful 1939 model year. If the 1940 schedule is realized, the necessary expenditures for materials, wages and the like will pour upwards of 200,000,000 Buick dollars into the channels of national business."

"New models were already rolling down the assembly line at Flint when we were there, and every indication points to our having a large selection of cars on hand to assure prompt delivery by announcement day."

"As a result of our appraisal of the new models, we confidently expect to set new Buick records here in New Castle during the next twelve months."

Czech Army Is To Be Formed

Czechs Outside Germany To Organize And Fight In War

WILL PROCLAIM CZECH GOVERNMENT

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Czechoslovakia is declaring war on Germany, and a revived Czech army abroad is being conscripted to battle the nation which absorbed her.

Dr. Stephen Osusky, plenipotentiary in France of the tiny country whose temporary—so the Czechs say—extermination formed the primary reason for the present world conflict, announced today the first step toward its formal resurrection.

Call to Colors

Osusky informed International News Service that loyal Czech citizens in France are exempted from confinement in concentration camps that have been prepared for all other citizens of Adolf Hitler's "Greater Reich," and that Osusky's authority to call these Czechs to the colors will be recognized.

The Czech emissary said that upon the basis of this legal position, which marks the first time any foreign government has recognized a Czech government other than that presided over in name by Emil Hacha, under the German club, he will at once organize a Czech army, proclaim a Czech government, and declare war on Germany.

Osusky, collaborating with former President Edouard Benes and Jan Masaryk, son of Czechoslovakia's first president, and former ambassador to Britain, said there is a greater number of exiled Czechs in France than anywhere else, totaling around 50,000.

(In London Dr. Benes announced this week that Bohemians, Moravians and Slovaks would fight against Germany.)

Night School Term To Start

Registrations For 30-Week Term Will Be Taken Next Week At Lincoln Building

MANY SUBJECTS OFFERED PUPILS

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—The 1939-40 Night School term opens for registrations on September 13 and 15 in the Lincoln Building from 7:00 to 9:00. Classes will start on Monday, September 18, and will continue for thirty weeks meeting every Monday and Thursday evening.

Because of the enthusiastic support given to the program of study last year the same courses will be offered this year. The complete program will include shorthand, typewriting, business English, bookkeeping, sewing, Americanization, shop math, blueprint reading, shop sketching, gymnasium for men, mechanical drawing, cabinet making, leather work and art-metal work. In addition to these courses, consideration will be given to other courses for which there seems to be a sufficient demand. The Night School administration will welcome inquiries about other courses.

This work is under the supervision of the Ellwood City School Board and is absolutely free. There is however a registration fee of $2.50 payable at registration, such fee to be returned at the completion of the course providing 75 per cent of the classes have been attended. Past experience shows that the majority of the students attend sufficient classes to receive the refund.

The Ellwood City Night School being an accredited Night School is permitted to give full day high school credit for all work successfully completed in night school. Many of the students have taken advantage of this fact and have earned sufficient credits for their high school diploma. This is particularly important to those persons who were forced to leave high school before they graduated. Persons interested in this feature are urged to contact the Superintendent's office for more information along this line.

Other articles will appear in later issues of this paper giving more detailed information about the various courses.

Merchants Warn Against Hoarding

No Shortage Of Foodstuffs In America — Merchants Have Meeting Today

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—Ellwood City merchants met in executive session this morning to discuss the sudden rise in prices of foodstuffs, meats and clothing.

Out of the session came the warning to Ellwood City shoppers to refrain from hoarding foodstuffs and the like because we have the largest supply of foodstuffs in the United States at this present time than ever before in the history of the country and the brokers are profiteering on the hoarding hysteria of Mr. and Mrs. Public.

All of your local merchants are urging each and everyone of you to buy for your daily needs and not to hoard in food at the rise in price. If everyone in the United States would heed the local merchants' plea it will not be long before food prices drop down to normal again.

Your merchants and local wholesale distributing concerns are not to blame for the rise in prices, it is absolutely the blame of big time brokers who are doing nothing but speculation as the stock market has shown, it is claimed.

U. S. May Set Up 12-Mile Limit

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The 12-mile limit—set up during prohibition days—today was expected by high naval experts to be established again by the United States to prevent warships of belligerent European powers from staging naval battles off American shores.

It would preclude any possibility of U. S. coastal cities seeing sea battles if enemy warcraft encounter each other close to America.

At the same time, high naval officials believed that in the case of battleships the limit would be even greater since some battleships are said to have an accurate firing range of 17 miles.

McKee Named As Milk Chairman

Actual Appointment Is Held Up Pending Litigation Over Eisanman Resignation

EISAMAN STILL MAINTAINS OFFICE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 7.—Pennsylvania's Milk Control Commission today had two chairmen but no one actively in charge of the commission's activities.

John M. McKee, of Clarion county, was designated by Gov. Arthur H. James to replace Howard C. Eisanman as chairman of the commission, but the actual appointment was held up pending litigation to determine Eisanman's legal status, who still claims he is chairman of the board.

Meanwhile, Eisanman, who resigned from the commission and then withdrew his resignation because Governor James accepted it "immediately" and not as of September 16 as Eisanman requested, said he intended to "sit tight."

Since he withdrew his resignation, Eisanman has been at the commission offices daily, but because of the litigation has performed little in the way of commission business.

The governor was awaiting a ruling from Attorney General Claude T. Reno on his authority to remove Eisanman. As chairman, McKee, only appointment of the governor to the commission, will receive $6,500 annually.

CARDINALS LOSE TO CHICAGO CUBS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—In striking contrast to the Yankees, the Reds today seem to be backing into the National League pennant in the most approved National League fashion.

Bill McKachnie's minions seem to be suffering from a mild attack of the jitters but they are losing no ground because the Cardinals are floundering around like a flock of decapitated hens.

The Reds split a pair with the Pirates yesterday, dropping the first 5-4, in 11 heats and taking the second 4-3 in 10 frames for Paul Derringer's 19th victory.

Cubs Beat Cards

Meanwhile the Cards were falling another half game to the bad by losing to French and the Cubs, 11-3, and now are in danger of being passed by Hartnett & Co.

The Giants, still powdering the ball, trounced the Bees, 10-4, for their fifth straight and in a night game at Brooklyn, the Dodgers nosed out the Phillies 2-1.

Over in the Junior circuit, the Yanks nosed out the Red Sox 2-1, on Joe DiMaggio's 26th homer which broke up a neat duel between those eminent southpaws Grove and Gomez.

Sports World Ramblings

Local jottings... Bessemer high's 1939 juggernaut, annually one of the strongest grid combinations in the district, makes its debut on Saturday, September 16, at Ellwood City, battling Ellwood City high. Reports emanating from the Cement City state that the red and black clad outfit will be another tartar... Johnny Maher, who is affiliated with the Pittsburgh Pirates professional grid team, was a recent visitor here... To Tony Ambrose: Last Sunday's game between the Yankees and Boston Red Sox will likely be replayed when the Yankees visit the Hub again. However, batting averages, etc., will not be affected.

Diamond snapshots... It finally happened to Moe Berg! After four years, the 36-year-old catcher clubbed a homer, his first since 1935... Look for several present Pirates to become Giants and vice versa before the 1940 race. Joe DiMaggio is threatening to grab the "mcsnrs batted in" crown besides the batting coronet. He trails the colorful Ted Williams 125 to 117... As if they need a few more breaks, the Yanks are even winning games via the forfeit method. Their fifth win over the Red Sox, which came on a "foul", left a sour taste in Bean-town.

Grid notes... Fordham university's reference brochure for sportswriters, which reached this bureau, is a humdinger. Crowley's machine shapes up as one of the nation's best... "Babe" Horrell, U. Like Dana Bible at Texas, success will not come to him immediately... Rice, easily the most publicized collegiate club in '38, which, incidentally, pulled an el fold, is again hitting the pages. They feature Cordill and Ernie Lahn, who rate as tops in the southwest.

Giants To Play All-Star Team

New York Giants Will Battle All-Stars In Charity Game At New York Tonight

NINE PITT MEN ARE IN LINEUP

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Under the floodlights, before an expected crowd of 40,000, with bands blaring and everything touched by pagantry, the football season will open here tonight when the New York Giants, champions of the National Professional League, tackle the Eastern All-Stars in the annual renewal of a charity exhibition that has blossomed into a gridiron classic. The All-Stars, coached by Dr. Jock Sutherland, late of Pitt, are given an outside chance to win. But that's about all—an outside chance. The Giants beat another all-star aggregation at Chicago last week and figure to be even stronger now, with more polish and cohesion.

Nine Pitt Players

The All-Stars' strength rests in the fact that the starting lineup is expected to include nine former Pitt players—the stars of last year's team which was rated as the nation's No. 1 gridiron powerhouse, all playing together again under their same old coach, the aforesaid Mr. Sutherland. Chief weakness of the All-Stars probably is an insufficiency of Pitt players to go through the entire encounter.

The starting backfield will be composed of Chickering at quarter, Goldberg at full, Stebbins at one half and Luckman, the Columbia passer, at the other, the latter being the only non-Pitt member of the ball-running quartet. Campbell, ex-Carnegie Tech tackle, will be the only starter in the line from beyond the boundaries of the Pitt football factory. That's if there are no changes in the lineups before the opening whistle, as it's called.

Will Play Tonight At Bessemer (Weather Permitting) At 4:45 O'clock

The third game of the Lawrence County championship baseball series will be played tonight at the Bessemer field at 4:45 o'clock. The Bessemer team, with two games in the bag, are in the driver's seat, and a win for the Cement Towers tonight will give them the championship.

The Slovaks will be battling with their backs to the wall and will pitch their ace-in-the-hole, Leroy "Blondie" Anderson, and he will be opposed no doubt by Chuck Snyder or Tomasello. It will more than likely be Snyder, due to the fact that he beat the Slovaks in the first game at Cedar street field.

New Climb

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The stock market resumed its climb today after a brief period of hesitation at the opening during which further heavy profit-taking was absorbed.

A rush of buying in rails and steels threw off the sluggishness and sent leaders up for gains running to more than $2 a share. The ticker fell two minutes behind.

N. Y. Central, after opening lower on 3,000 shares, was heavily bought and advanced more than $1 a share. The entire rail list scored substantial gains.

Bethlehem and DuPont paced the market recovered from yesterday's decline. Each climbed more than $2 a share. U. S. Steel, opening 20 minutes late and off nearly $1 a share, regained an early loss.

Aviation shares also came forward, Douglas rising more than $1 a share.

Anacosta Copper advanced more than $1 a share and so did American Smelting.

Other strong spots were Crucible Steel, Westinghouse and Johns-Manville, up $2 a share each. Motor shares scored gains exceeding $1 a share in Chrysler.

Elsewhere the tone was strong, with gains of $1 a share and more, numerous.

Hitler's Boast Recalls Another's—in 1914

"I will lead you to victory, and if not to victory then to my own death. For I shall not live in defeat." — Kaiser Wilhelm II., August, 1914.

Adolf Hitler, in his broadcast to the German nation on the morning of the beginning of hostilities in Poland, chose precisely the same words as Kaiser Wilhelm used, just 25 years ago, in boasting of his intentions. Today, the Kaiser is in his 22nd year of exile.

Judge Soffel Is Given Reception

Speaks To Women Of County
In Meeting At The Castleton Today

Judge Sara Soffel of the Allegheny County court, a candidate for the Republican nomination to the State Supreme Court presented her cause to the Republican women of Lawrence County on Thursday at one o'clock when a luncheon was held in her honor in The Castleton Hotel.

Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson was the chairman of the meeting and introduced Judge Soffel. In her introduction Mrs. Johnson reviewed the judge's history, graduate of the Allegheny County public schools of Westley College, of the Pitt law school, a school teacher, a practicing attorney and elected judge of the county court by a tremendous majority.

"I am a candidate for the state supreme court, not because I am a woman but because I believe I am qualified. It seems to me there is a place for a woman on the bench and my experience in the Allegheny County Courts would be of value on the appellate bench."

Judge Soffel urged party unity among Republican women, expressed her appreciation at being asked to speak and very evidently impressed her hearers by her sincerity and frankness. Friends of hers say that the entire western end of Pennsylvania is certain to give her a handsome plurality and that the east will give her a fair break.

Italy—Mystery Key in Europe's War

As France and Germany battled on the Western Front, observers turned their attention to Italy, backdoor to Germany. Italy has promised to remain neutral, but France is exerting pressure to obtain passage through the country. Three mountain passes (1) St. Bernard, (2) Charbonnet and (3) Monaco converge on Turin (4), important Italian manufacturing city, and thence on Milan (5). From Milan, railroads give easy access to the Brenner Pass (6) and Klagenfurt Pass (7) into Germany. Fiume (8), Trieste (9) and Venice (10), Adriatic ports which provide a stream of supplies into blockaded Germany, also are closely linked to Milan by rail. Bologna (11) is a main stop if an invader turned south from Milan toward Florence (12) and Rome. Italy's naval base at Spezia (13) also is vulnerable to attack from the northern passes.

Accept Posts in Britain's War Government

Creation of three war-time departments of the British Government virtually completed the shake-up necessitated by the outbreak of hostilities with Germany. Lord Macmillan (left), Scottish jurist and member of the Privy Council Court of Appeal, was named Minister of Information. William S. Morrison (center), Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, became Minister of Food Supply. Ronald Hibbert (right), Conservative member of Parliament, was appointed Minister of Economic Warfare. As director of the blockade of Germany, Cross is likely to become a key figure in the government.

New Ruling For Big Grain Market
In Effect Today

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Permissible permits for one day's rise or fall of grain prices were doubled today on the board of trade.

Directors of the exchange last night voted to take this action as a means of removing the deadlock in the futures market that prevailed during the last two days of trading. Prices hit the ceiling at the opening and trading came to a standstill for the duration of the session.

Under the new limits wheat and rye will be permitted to fluctuate ten cents a bushel either up or down from the preceding days close. The new limit on corn and soy beans was announced as eight cents, and on oats six cents.

Directors doubled margin requirements on new speculative trades in grain futures in an effort, it was explained, to curtail possible raiding operations.

The new rulings went into effect at today's opening.

Preparedness
For Disasters
Is Given Stress

Maurice R. Reddy, Of National Red Cross, Conducts Institute Wednesday

LOCAL CHAPTER
NOW ORGANIZED

With Red Cross representatives from Lawrence and Beaver counties in attendance preparedness for disasters was stressed at an institute conducted by Maurice R. Reddy, assistant director of disaster relief for the National Red Cross, in the Cathedral last evening.

The work of the various committees which will have charge of the different phases of relief in the event a disaster should strike this community, were told what they should do in order to relieve distress and save lives.

The keynote of the institute was preparedness. Mr. Reddy related instances from his vast experience in disasters throughout the country, of how those communities which were prepared when disaster did strike, were able to start their work of rescue and assistance within a few minutes after the warning was given. Precious minutes were saved because an organization had been built up in advance, and it was not necessary to work out details in the midst of the confusion which follows a disaster. Everyone knew what was expected of him, and did it.

Under the leadership of a general chairman are ten committees. Each of these committees has a special task to perform, exclusive of any other, and their duties were explained in detail.

The Lawrence county chapter has been organized for any disaster and with the valuable information given by Mr. Reddy at this institute last evening, will be prepared to take care of any emergency at a moment's notice.

Alex McCready, co-chairman of Disaster Relief committee, was introduced by Chairman Ralph F. Davis, and in turn presented Mayor McGrath and the speaker, Mr. Reddy.

No Recent Air
Raids Reported
Over England

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 7.—The ministry of home security announced today that no German air action had taken place over England during the 12 hours from 6 p. m. yesterday up to 6 a. m. today.

The last activity occurred yesterday morning when a fleet of German planes attempted to approach the Essex coast but were driven off by anti-aircraft fire even before pursuing British planes could come to grips with them.

The raiders were repelled before any midair combat between British and German planes was necessary.

Automatic Re-instatement Offered Those Who Work Less Than Six Months

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 7.—State relief authorities took steps today to help relief recipients who hesitate to accept short-term jobs for fear of losing their relief status.

State Assistant Secretary Howard J. Russell announced an "automatic" reinstatement program, under which recipients will be permitted to return to relief without investigation if their employment is stopped within six months.

"If a recipient takes a job and it ends within six months," explained Russell, "he asks his employer to sign the automatic reinstatement certificate, indicating the amount and date of the last wage, and then registers with the state employment office to put himself in line for further employment."

"Then if he presents the certificate to the nearest county board of assistance office, it will be authorized immediately, with further investigation postponed until after the first relief check has been received."

The plan already is operating in principal in Philadelphia, according to relief authorities.

Car Struck By Truck While Making Turn Off Road Near Walmo

Automobile driven by Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, was struck by a trailer-truck Wednesday afternoon when he was making a turn from the Wilmington road at Walmo into the driveway at the home of his son, Raymond.

Although Dr. Bennett suffered from shock, he escaped injury. The truck, said to be one of Mooney Brothers trucks by members of the Bennett family, struck the Bennett machine on the rear portion of the car and turned the machine around, hitting it again in the front.

Both truck and automobile were going in the same direction on the highway, it was reported. Dr. Bennett's automobile was badly wrecked.

Dr. Bennett was up and around this morning after having been confined to his bed since the accident by his physician, in order to permit him to recover from the shock.

Democratic Candidate for Reasons I should receive the Democratic nomination:

To insure prosperity you must nominate and elect progressive and liberal candidates.

Will my Democratic opponent with his family ties desert the party?

Will he employ his sister-in-law, wife, son and father-in-law, as the present Treasurer has done?

Will he, or the son of the present City Treasurer, his son-in-law, be the Treasurer?

These questions are being asked. I do not know his answers, but I do know that such questions will never be asked concerning me. I feel that my education and training fit me for the work of this office.

If nominated and elected, I promise to conduct the business of this office in a courteous and efficient manner, and distribute the employment of extra help among the worthy and competent unemployed.
